Echocardiography Program Receives Accreditation

July 16th, 2024 – Campbellford Memorial Hospital (CMH) is proud to announce that our echocardiography program, under the exceptional leadership of Senior Ultrasound Technologist Melissa Fleming, has received the certificate of accreditation from the Ontario Echocardiography Quality Improvement Program.

This prestigious accreditation is a testament to Melissa's unwavering commitment and outstanding leadership. Her relentless dedication and the hard work and expertise of her team have enabled CMH to meet and exceed the stringent standards set by the accreditation body.

“We are incredibly proud of Melissa and her team for this remarkable achievement,” said Colleen Smith, Manager of Diagnostic Imaging at Campbellford Memorial Hospital. “Their dedication to excellence ensures that our patients receive the highest quality of care.”

The accreditation process is designed to ensure that echocardiography services meet high standards of quality and safety. Achieving this recognition highlights CMH's commitment to providing the highest quality of healthcare services to our community.
